

Ms. Moore's Classroom Literacy Blog Contract

1. I promise to choose a safe username and avatar for my blog profile that keeps my personal information private. I also promise to keep my password secure by keeping it to myself.
2. I will keep all personal information private.
3. I promise to tell an adult immediately if there is something on the blog that makes me feel unsafe or uncomfortable. I will only respond to posts, comments, and messages from bloggers that I know and that make me feel safe and respected.
4. I promise to respect the privacy of my fellow classmate bloggers. This means I will keep their information private and comment appropriately on their blogs, posts, and comments.
5. I promise to respect the learning environment of the classroom literacy blog. This means that my posts and comments will be safe and respectful so all bloggers can have fun, learn, and stay safe.
