

Students will learn about various social networking sites, be able to determine which, if any, they would like to integrate into their own instruction, and be able to create a learning space for their students within a chosen social learning site.

