
Course Objective
Learners will realize that choice-based instruction is an effective way of teaching students content, as well as many 21st century skills
Unit One
Students will learn what choice-based learning is and how it affects instruction
Unit Two
Students will successfully identify the most crucial objectives, as well as unnecessary constraints in a lesson
Unit Three
Students will successfully design their own choice-based lesson
Lesson One
Participants will describe choice-based learning
Lesson Two
Participants will describe the benefits and challenges of choice-based instruction
Lesson Three
Participants will identify the most crucial pieces of a lesson
Lesson Four
Participants will identify unnecessary constraints
Lesson Five
Participants will design their own choice-based lesson
Lesson Six
Participants will reflect on their lesson and how successful they think it would be
Self-motivated
Flexible
Content knowledge
Able to improvise
Able to prioritize